Police use tear gas, pepper spray on hostage suspect

■ Man armed with knife holds Glide Ave. apartment resident hostage and then vows to commit suicide rather than face surrender

By Steve Marschke

An argument at a Glide Ave. apartment complex turned into a hostage standoff Monday evening, after a knife-wielding 19-year old took a male resident of the complex prisoner. No one was seriously injured in the incident and the suspect, identified as Alejandro Blanco (and whose address was unknown) was in jail with a $50,000 bail on Tuesday.

According to Lt. Russ Thomas of the West Sacramento Police Department, the incident started late Monday afternoon with an argument between Blanco and a male resident of the complex who was apparently upset that he and his sons had nearly been struck by a vehicle in which Blanco was travelling.

"Blanco picked up a knife and took a couple of swipes," said Thomas. The citizen and a son "picked up a broken bottle and then a board, and chased him."

"Blanco then fled into Apt. 6, where there was a Russian gentleman in his late 50s, and slammed the door behind him. There was about 2 1/2 hours of negotiations," said Thomas, and he finally let the old guy out."

The victim was in shock but unharmed, he added.

"But even after more negotiations, he became more and more emotional. He said he had a can of gasoline in the microwave and was going to blow himself up. He wasn't going to jail. We fired a small round of tear gas in -- a dose about enough for one room.

"His reaction was to come to the rear window. The officer I had placed back there used pepper spray in his face and that pretty much did it. (Through window blinds) we saw him come to the front door and kneel. We forced the door open and took him into custody."

Thomas said that Blanco had barricaded the front door with a chair, and that he was uncooperative about his address and other aspects of his identity while in custody.

Sonic takes dispute with West Sac to court

By David Weller

Sonic Cable -- West Sacramento cable TV service provider -- raised the stakes in its longtime contract dispute with the city of West Sacramento by filing a lawsuit with the U.S. District Court last week.

Sonic General Manager John Adams did not want to discuss the details of the suit, but would say that "the complaint addresses our first amendment rights as a public speaker," and that it asks only for "declaratory relief." No money is asked for in the suit. "We just think its time to get it resolved. We think its time to get a third party in here to end this thing," he said.

A spokesperson for the city was not available Tuesday afternoon.

The suit follows a thirty day "notice to cure" issued by the city to Sonic several weeks ago. In addition to filing the lawsuit, the company sent a letter to the city naming the points at which they were still in disagreement.

The cable company was awarded a contract to provide cable television services by the county Board of Supervisors in 1985. The contract included requirements that the company provide a public studio, training for people wanting to learn how to use the equipment, and an internship program for the schools.

When West Sacramento incorporated in 1987, the new city took responsibility for enforcing the terms of the contract, but the company has not complied.

"We had a lot of meetings with them. At one point we thought we were close, but that did not develop. We were real disappointed," said Assistant City Manager Carol Richardson in an August interview.

Adams has argued that the company should not have to pay for public access services it provides, and that the numbers of households subscribing to the services do not justify the expense of adding additional services.

City and port 'a lot closer' in Southport development debate

By David Weller

The Port of Sacramento and the City of West Sacramento appear to be nearing agreement on disputed details of a development agreement over a proposed industrial park in Southport.

The agreement, which was approved by the planning commission last month over the protests of the port manager, will be heard on appeal by the city council tonight.

Since port management filed the appeal, the city and the port have negotiated agreements on several of the disputed issues. "I think we're a whole lot closer on most of the issues than we were," said Port Manager John Sulpizio.

Local woman writing the book on aquatic exercise

By David Weller

Four years ago, Virginia Seamans had trouble rising from her chair. Suffering from two painful illnesses, osteoporosis and arthritis, and from the death of her husband of 46 years, she remembers a recent time when she did not accomplish much during the course of a day.

"I was so devastated by his illness and death, by his absence, and by my own physical difficulties, that I wasn't even driving the car," she remembers. Her husband, Dr. Seamans, was principal of James Marshall High School for several years.

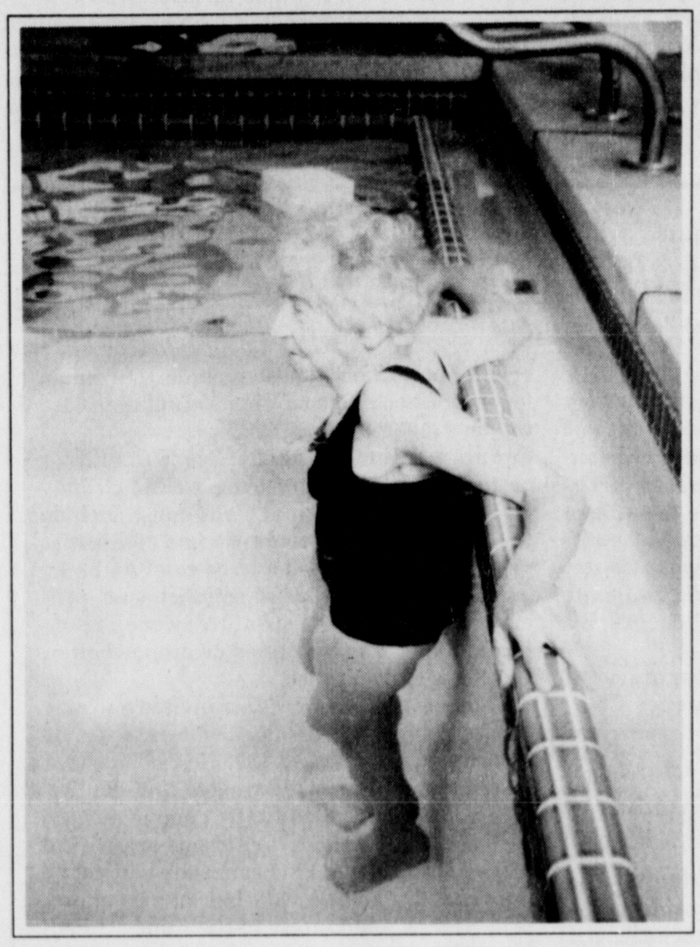
To illustrate how difficult it was for her to move around, she picks up a refillable Mont Blanc pen from a shelf and says, "When I was at my worst, it was a day's work to take this pen to the kitchen drain and fill it with ink. I also got my meals."

Today, the energetic 80-year-old woman has returned to an active physical and social life, and is involved in community organizations such as Friends of the Library and The West Sacramento Historical Society.

She is also developing a book of exercises to help others who may want to begin work on recovering from osteoporosis.

Entitled "Ballet for the Bones," the book consists of directions and illustrations for intricate in-water exercises she has developed while working on her own recovery.

Nine of the 27 exercises are adapted from the exercises physical therapists give to recovering knee surgery patients, the rest are of her own invention.



VIRGINIA SEAMANS, ready for an aquatic workout

"It started January 1991, when my friends Helen and Sal Solinas carried me to the YMCA (to begin exercising in the pool). I started getting back a little strength, enough to drive my car three times a week to the YMCA." Sal has since died.

The exercises she began doing in the pool were originally taught to her for work at home while holding on to the kitchen sink. She adapted them for the water, and began to work on developing the additional exercises.

"Once these exercises started gelling, and I realized they were doing more for me than swimming laps could ever do, I realized I wanted to find ways to share them with others."

By 1993, Seamans began thinking in terms of producing a video exercise tape. "I was taking it so seriously that three friends came over to the YMCA and took videos. But we figured out pretty quickly that we would need an underwater camera. I also found out it would cost $35,000 to $40,000."

The water-resistant book she is currently working is being funded by a grant from the "Thanks be to Grandmother Winifred Foundation." A New York based group that provides grants to women over the age of 55 working on worthwhile projects.

'No contest' plea for pastor of local church

■ West Sacramento man is no longer the pastor of a Manzanita Ave. church after arrest for alleged relationship with a minor

By Steve Marschke

West Sacramento resident and former pastor Don Wisdom has pleaded "no contest" to 11 counts of unlawful sexual intercourse with a minor who was a member of his congregation.

Wisdom was replaced as pastor of the Word of Life Assembly of God in July, in connection with his July 26 arrest. The charges involved an alleged relationship with a girl from 1994 to 1995, beginning when the girl was 15.

When reached at his home this week, Wisdom declined detailed comment, but confirmed facts of the plea. He said that the prosecution had "built those charges up" to include 50 counts, but that the final plea of no contest to 11 counts -- none of which included child molestation charges.

The church is located on Manzanita Avenue.

Methadone center

The West Sacramento City Council tonight will consider an appeal of the Planning Commission decision to allow a methadone treatment center at the John H. Jones Community Clinic.

Methadone is used to treat heroin addicts.

The clinic is located at the Riverbend Market complex on Sacramento Ave.

The council meeting starts at 7 p.m. in the city council chambers, 2101 Stone Blvd., West Sacramento.

Riverbank Music Festival strikes a pleasant note

Still unknown whether this year's version of the fundraiser turned a profit for parks programs

■ 'Los Lobos' and other bands attract record ticket sales at third annual music event

By Steve Marschke

Over a thousand people turned out for the third annual Riverbank Music Festival in West Sacramento on Sunday afternoon and evening. But although the event went smoothly, it will be a week or so before the local recreation department can determine if the event was a successful fundraiser for youth programs.

The event headlined international recording artists Los Lobos as well as the regionally popular Mumbo Gumbo, capping off a day of entertainment by other artists.

"We did sell 1,100 tickets,n which was 200 more than last year," said Don Schatzel, West Sacramento's director of parks and community services. "Our ticket prices ($20 to $23) were higher than last year, but our production costs were higher, too. We had to get a bigger stage and lighting and everything for Los Lobos."

The event occurred -- as in the past -- on the lawn of the First Nationwide Bank, near Reed Ave. and I-80 in the city's northwestern area. Schatzel said he saw a lot of people wearing T-shirts commemorating the music festival from previous years, and estimated that about a third of the crowd were repeat customers of the festival. Most, he said, were from the Sacramento side of the river, with some coming "from as far away as Berkeley and Nevada."

One side-effect of the tourism was a little bit of consciousness raising about the city.

"We heard a lot of people saying, 'gee, we didn't know there was anyplace this nice in West Sacramento,' " said Schatzel.

Other bands included Rafael Manriquez and Lydia Mills, Lady Victoria and the Plastic Flamingos (featuring vocalist Cindy Tuttle, a West Sacramento city council member), and the Chrome Addicts.

The music festival was scheduled on a Sunday to accommodate Los Lobos, but Schatzel added that he hopes that future festivals will be held on a Saturday of a non-Labor Day weekend for even better attendance.

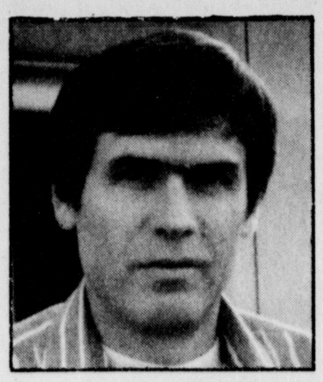
Schatzel explained that his department and the event's organizer, Rudy Martinez, had told the West Sacramento City Council that they hoped to be making a profit by this, the third year of the festival. In the first two years, the festival has taken losses.

Will the city council authorize a fourth festival next year, even if this one didn't reach profit levels?

"We feel like if we can get close, we've earned a shot at it," said Schatzel. "But it's up to the council to decide if we're close enough."

Being HIV-positive in an HIV-negative world

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

A little over a month ago, my daughter was in a car accident in downtown Sacramento. Thankfully, she and the driver of the other vehicle were not injured, but both of their cars were seriously damaged. As my daughter and the lady who had been driving the other vehicle exchanged insurance information and phone numbers, something quite unusual took place. The lady gave my daughter a big hug and admitted that the wreck was all her fault -- both rare happenings at an accident scene these days -- but she also said, "I'm afraid I wasn't really paying attention like I should have. You see, it was just confirmed today that I'm HIV-positive."

Later that evening, when the lady called my daughter to see how she was feeling and to go over all the other details two people who are in a car wreck have to iron out, my daughter handed me the phone and asked if I would take care of that part of it for her. After the lady and I had discussed everything from eyewitness accounts to the need for a police report, I asked her how she was handling the news that she was HIV-positive. I was impressed with her willingness to discuss the subject and I finally got up the courage to ask her if she would be interested in helping me put together a column I have long wanted to write on what it's like for a person to live with the knowledge that he or she is HIV-positive. She said she would think about it and get back to me after all the dust from the accident had settled.

I mentioned my conversation with her to a few of my friends -- all of whom advised me not to be having friendly chats with someone who would soon be meeting with her auto insurance lawyers -- and not to be too surprised if I never heard from her again once she had talked to them.

Last Friday, though, I did hear from her again and we agreed to meet later that evening. She turned out to be just as sweet in person as she had been over the phone and after I had assured her that her real name wouldn't appear in the column, we began to talk. She told me she had actually first tested HIV-positive way back in 1991, but that she had simply refused to believe it at the time. "I went into complete denial," she explained, "and talked myself into believing the test had been wrong -- even though my boyfriend had died from lymphoma and had had a number of AIDS-like symptoms before his death."

"So this latest test just confirmed what you already knew?"

"It's hard to explain," she said, nodding her head, "but even though I've been taking all kinds of herbs, vitamins, and anti-retrovirus medicines for some time, I still thought that last test would be negative. Denial is a powerful thing."

The more we talked about T-cell counts, AZT cocktails and the information contained in a really informative book of hers entitled, "Medical Care of Patients With HIV Infection", the more I realized that as interesting as all that was, what I really wanted to know was how a person as nice, young, and full of life as her was dealing with all this.

"I love my job," she explained, "and that really helps. I'm in a profession which allows me to help others and put all of my years of education to good use. That's why I can't afford to let everyone know I'm HIV-positive. There are a lot of judgmental people out there who really don't understand HIV and unfortunately, some of them can make my life even more difficult than it already is."

"What do you do with your time away from work?" I asked her.

"To tell you the truth, I spend most of my free time trying to find new ways to stay alive. I read all the latest medical literature -- especially on experimental drugs -- and network with others in my situation. There are groups out there who really want to help, like the AIDS Foundation and WORLD (Women Organized To Respond To Life Threatening Diseases), and the gay community has also been very helpful and supportive. I also spend as much time as I can exercising at my gym -- HIV can't be transmitted through sweat, by the way -- and working on my inner self -- on being more positive and spiritual. I try to make sure I'm living in hope and not feeling sorry for myself. I never ask myself why me. I just happen to have a chronic disease, period, and I'm going to keep right on fighting it with all my strength. Helpless people are the ones who don't survive, and I'm not helpless."

"You're very hopeful then?"

"Of course. And there's good reason to be hopeful. Depending on what study you read, anywhere from 5 to 15 percent of all people infected with HIV turn out to be long-term survivors, and I plan on getting my T-cells up to 1000 or so and being one of them."

My final question to her was, "What do you think has been the single most difficult part of all this for you?"

"Oh, that's easy to answer," she said without hesitation. "It's been trying to get through this lack of intimacy thing. HIV-negative men are not exactly jumping at the opportunity to spend time with me and I don't go out with many HIV-positive men because most of them are gay. Actually, making love with an HIV infected person can be quite safe if you take all the necessary precautions, but the last time I was intimate with a man, I could tell he was absolutely scared to death. And when I say intimacy, I don't just mean sex. Everyone needs to hug and cuddle now and then -- especially those of us who are struggling with a life-threatening disease."

As I motored home, I thought about how much there is to be learned from the people we meet in passing -- people who often pop up in our lives without warning or a proper introduction -- people who force us to think and grow -- people who challenge us to be more compassionate, tolerant, and appreciative of the gift of life. I also thought of the colorful wall poster which is prominently displayed in my new friend's apartment. It reads: Love isn't only what makes the world go around -- love is what makes the ride worthwhile.

Safety program:

Kids' defense

From Barbosa's Karate

The "Karate for Kids" organization will be hosting a child safety and abduction defense program entitled "Hit, Kick and Run" as a free community service to all kids ages five and above. To reserve a place in the program, please call 684-1476. This is a free community service -- no "for profit" solicitations will be made.

The program will concentrate on developing a "don't mess with me" mindset in the kids, since self-confident people are rarely victims. In addition, kids will role-play situations where they may encounter bullies or strangers; easy, yet effective, escape strategies will be practiced. Finally, the program will focus on the "No, Go, Tell" child abuse method that encourages children to communicate unusual advances to responsible adults whenever appropriate.

Local law enforcement will be present at most locations to discuss street crime, drug awareness and child abduction.

The "Karate for Kids" organization is a nationwide program sponsored in 250 different locations, in every state of the nation. The programs provide students with mental development and physical training through a goal-oriented teaching plan that is unique in the martial arts profession. The program is founded on the fundamental belief that "every child is a winner, and each kid is special in their own way."

The "Hit, Kick and Run" program will be held on Saturday, September 16, between 2 and 4 p.m. The program will be held at the following locations: Elk Grove Wal-Mart Shopping Center (off of Highway 99), 684-1476; and 1223 Merkley Avenue in West Sacramento, 375-0532.

Interested parties may also refer to the advertisement in the September issue of "Parents Monthly" magazine for participating locations. For more information, please call Luis Barbosa at 684-1476.

New RCHS frosh team wins

This is the first year River City High School has had a freshman football team, and they are off to a good start. River City traveled to Marysville and won their first game by a score of 34 to 8.

The Raiders scored on their first possession. They drove down the field 46 yards, with Dominique Alphers scoring a 1-yard touchdown, taking the lead 6 to 0. In the second quarter, Malcom Floyd threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to Adam Wickliffe, who ran the two-point conversion, making the score 14 to 0. Marysville scored a two-point safety to trail, 14 to 2. River City scored next on a 45-yard pass from quarterback

News-Ledger Editorial

Tweaking the way local government works

A local government, like a company or even an individual, needs to re-evaluate and adjust from time to time in order to stay effective.

A couple of proposals on how to make the city government of West Sacramento more responsive to its citizens have recently been floated, and one of those ideas seems pretty promising while the other may be a mistake.

These ideas are:

■ Election of city council members and school board members by district.

This idea pops up from time to time, usually by someone who lives in the lower income areas of the city who is upset by the very real problem of the under-representation of those neighborhoods in local government.

After all, no one on the city council or local school board lives in Broderick or Bryte -- two areas with a great many service concerns involving both the schools and city. So residents of those areas often feel disenfranchised.

"District elections" mean changing the voting system for the city from the current "at large" system, where all the city's citizens vote on the same pool of candidates and the top vote-getters win -- regardless of where they live. A new system would guarantee that each "district" of the city would have a representative responsible to that district. Southport might have one council member (or school board member), for example, while the north areas of Broderick and Bryte would elect another, and the Park Blvd. area would elect yet another, and so on.

The positive side of this proposal is that everyone would be representated by someone who lives close by and is responsible to the voters of his or her district. Bryte and Broderick, for example, would for the first time be guaranteed a local voice in government.

The negative side, however, is two-fold. For one thing, the proposal would guarantee neighborhood representation even when only inferior candidates were present in a district. If there is only one candidate from a district, and that candidate is inadequate, he or she would still be guaranteed a seat on the city council or school board -- perhaps at the cost of losing a more qualified person who happens to live in another area.

So the city's top five overall choices would no longer reach office.

The other down-side to district elections is that at the same time a neighborhood elected its own representative, it would have to face the fact that the other four people on the city council or school board were not elected locally, and would have little reason to worry about concerns outside of their own neighborhood than they do now.

So while district elections might be designed to help neighborhoods such as the troubled and under-represented Maple/Holly area, the opposite could result.

Instead of having five council members who are at least somewhat responsive to their needs (as was the case in the recent neighborhood meeting with the city council), under the district election system a neighborhood like Maple/Holly would find itself with one very attentive council member and four who do not have much reason to care.

Unfortunately, it only takes three votes to make a decision, and not one.

District elections would therefore be dangerous. For instance, suppose the city is struggling with the question of which neighborhood to place a low income housing development or a sewage treatment plant. What's to prevent three or for city council members from "ganging up" on another and forcing the undesired project into his/her district in order to protect their own?

At least under the present system, every council member and school board member has some accountability to every voter. The problem of under-representation in some neighborhoods remains, but that problem is one best cured by some good old fashioned political activism.

■ Council member Wes Beers has proposed the germ of an idea involving "contracts" with local neighborhoods -- another idea designed to make government more responsive on a neighborhood level.

This idea makes sense.

Beers envisions meetings regular between city officials and local residents in which local government can better keep tabs on neighborhood concerns, and better communicate its progress (or lack of progress) to those waiting to see some results on issues such as crime, traffic or blight in their local neighborhoods.

Any idea which creates more direct links between residents and their leaders is a good one. The city ought to give this consideration some serious thought, even going so far as to revive the old idea of holding occasional city council meetings in different parts of town.

Proud to help

PortFest '95 will see its first fireworks display with the help of the West Sacramento Firefighters Association. We will provide fire protection and a fire watch during the fireworks show.

We are proud to be a part of this community and did not hesitate when asked to volunteer our time for this event. Members of this association go back long before we were a city, back to the Bryte, Broderick and West Sacramento Fire Department days, back when community pride and spirit was a big part of the Fire Department.

The West Sacramento Firefighters Association still has the community pride and spirit with over half of the membership being life long residents of either Bryte, Broderick or West Sacramento.

This is why it is our pleasure to protect and serve our citizens, families and friends.

Enjoy the fireworks.

This week's comments:

Again the City of West Sacramento dwells and gets in the faces of the people of West Sacramento by causing more problems, more vacant land, and taking people to court to get their properties taken away from them.

I do not understand when the City of West Sacramento has this power grabbing ability -- it needs to be taken care of. . .

I'd like to know what the city police department and the towing companies, what the deal is.

We've got a police officer driving a tow truck. . . I think the police chief ought to investigate, (including the fact that) we've got tow trucks without licenses and insurance. It sounds to me like a big scam. . .

Local school guide:

Back to school info for students, parents

Five of the Washington Unified School District's elementary schools are holding back-to-school events next Thursday evening, September 14. Each of the schools have designed activities which are unique and different, with the hopes of encouraging more parent participation at the schools.

Since parent participation and involvement is perhaps one of the best predictors of student success, parents are really encouraged to come with their children to the school events. The following highlights are occurring at the schools:

Alyce Norman, 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Two classroom performances will kick-off the evening at 6:30 with an ice cream social to follow. Parents, students and teachers will have an informal opportunity to get together dcuring the social

Elkhorn, 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

There will be a spaghetti dinner ($1 parents/$.50 students) beginning at 4:30 p.m., with classroom visitations from 6 to 7:30 p.m. While students are outside on the playgrounds with supervisors, the parents will be given a presentation of the district's new math program.

Evergreen, 6:30 to 8 p.m.

There will be a free PTO sponsored picnic (hot dogs, chips, drinks) and an ice cream social beginning at 6:30. Classrooms will be open for visitation during the evening.

Westfield, 6 to 7:30 p.m.

Westfield is holding their fall family pizza dinner and dessert pot luck (nominal charge for the pizza). The event is sponsored by their Parent Teacher Club. The dinner will begin at 6 p.m.

Westmore Oaks, 6 to 7:45 p.m.

There will be a PTA-sponsored barbecue ($2 per person with hot dogs, chips and drinks) beginning at 6 p.m., with classrooms open from 7 to 7:45 p.m.

Hints for preparing nutritious school lunches

From FHP Health Care

This fall, kids throughout California will be heading back to school, lunch boxes and bags in hand. It can be challenging for parents to come up with creative and nutritious school lunches day after day -- especially at 6 o'clock in the morning. FHP health educator and registered dietitian Alicia Drodz suggests following the three "R's" when packing lunches for kids -- Recognize, Respect and Request.

"Keep in mind that lunch that appeals to you may not interest your child," says Drodz, "and no food is nourishing if it's not eaten." Recognize your child's food preferences advised Drodz. have them list their favorite foods from the five food groups -- grains, proteins, dairy, fruits and vegetables. Use the list as a guide to building a balanced lunch. Also keep in mind your child's social habits at school. If they're the type to want to hit the playground as soon as possible, sandwiches are a better choice than soups or salads, which can take longer to eat.

Respect your child's views on food. Most kids are greatly influenced by peer pressure and may not want to eat foods that appear "nerdy" (which can be anything, depending on your child's school culture). Drodz suggests packing a lunch of foods that your child feels comfortable eating in a social situation.

making a big mistake in suing Boy Scouts to allow a girl to become a member of a young boys' club. Not only is it morally wrong, but if by some chance the courts should rule "that if any girl has a right to join any boys' club," the court would also have to okay the flip-side: that it must also be okay for boys to join girls' clubs, too!

Would leaders and members of the Girl Scouts approve of boys joining the Girl Scouts? Would parents approve? Not likely. Do not Girl Scouts engage in "girl talk?" And do not Boy Scouts engage in "boy talk" -- as a part of growing up?

To combine the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts into one group (Scouts) is to ask for trouble and to deny youngsters any kid of "same-sex privacy." And what about restrooms?

During these critical learning years, it is best we keep the Boy Scouts camping out separately from the Girl Scouts...and vice-versa.

"13-1" Club

(This open letter to Congressman Vic Fazio was printed in last week's News-Ledger, but several crucial typographical errors clouded its message. It is reprinted here with apologies)

I would like to discuss with you a matter which is of vital concern to those who are receiving Medicare/Medicaid.

The Republicans' "Contract With America" proposes to decrease Medicare coverage to those eligible by over $900, but at the same time reduce the tax burden on the wealthy (those who make $200,000 or more) by almost $13,000. In other words, 13 people who receive Medicare/Medicaid assistance would be forced deeper into poverty so that one wealthy person benefits from a tax break.

This, sir, is a travesty and must not be allowed to happen. This injustice seems to be a part of the Republican cape and only serves to broaden the economic gap between rich and poor.

If you concur with this argument, then I expect you to fight against this measure with every fiber of your being. I propose that you set up a "13-1" club as a means to fight. That is to say, establish a club among voters who are willing to go to the polls in order that their rights be protected. This can be accomplished by:

1) Marketing a button with the numbers "13-1";

2) Collateral contacts to help distribute the button coupled with a nominal contribution (say $5) to defray costs, from each voter willing to participate;

3) A "contract" to assure voters that any laws designed to help the needy will not be reversed so as to help the privileged few (etc.);

4) Request that those concerned proudly wear their buttons as a means to show support to your cause and hopefully to recruit others. Also, as a means to show that the "Contract With America" is a fraud and that any member of the House or Senate who votes for such a fraud is in danger of losing her/his seat.

Please be assured that many people are seriously concerned about this issue, and should those concerns come to fruition, there may be some drastic changes when both Democrats and Republicans try to seek re-election.

Police logbook

Sept. 7, 7:55 p.m.
An undercover police operative picked up a 31-year old woman on West Capitol Ave. and asked if $25 was enough for a sex act. "Yes," she replied, and directed him to drive to West Capitol and 5th Street. At that location, she was arrested by a police sergeant and cited and released at the police station. About five other arrests for solicitation were made in the same prostitution sweep.

Sept. 9, 2:50 a.m.
A 38-year old Sacramento man and a 33-year old Fairfield man were arrested for trespassing and petty theft, after they were discovered stealing pallets from a West Capitol Ave. business.

Sept. 10, 1:09 p.m.
A man told police that on West Capitol Ave., a woman had asked him for money. When he removed a wallet, a second female suspect rode her bicycle into him and stole the wallet, and both fled. He told police this had occurred about 45 minutes earlier. They later decided he was fabricating the story in an effort to "get someone to give him money."

Sept. 10, 3:55 p.m.
A caller on Solano St. said a car with a 16-year old driver had run over the caller's dog and fled the scene.

Sept. 10, 5:54 p.m.
A man reported that his car was carjacked by a male and female, and that the female may have had a pistol in her jumpsuit. He said he was stalled near the I-80 exit onto West Capitol when the man and woman took the car. Police determined that no crime had occurred, and that the incident resulted from a "problem that got out of hand." The man was cited and released.

Sept. 11, 8:12 a.m.
A caller said he had seen a man and woman on the railroad tracks near 5th and D streets. The man was yelling at the woman to leave him alone, and the woman was throwing rocks at him. The man was gone when police arrived, and the woman agreed to move along.

A woman reported that her son's pager had been stolen from a locker at the high school.

Sept. 11, 3:30 p.m.

Meditation helps you make the most of the here and now

PHILOSOPHY
WHEREVER YOU GO THERE YOU ARE
Jon Kabat-Zinn
Hyperion. 274 pages.
Experts prescribe meditation for conquering addictions, compulsions and stress. But the simple truth is that being mindful of the here and now is its own reward. The author, featured in Bill Moyers' Healing and the Mind, guides the reader simply through the meditation process.

MYSTERY
THE VENUS THROW
Steven Saylor.
St. Martin's. 305 pages.
This Berkeley author has made a name for himself writing a series of mysteries set in--of all places--ancient Rome. No, they're not written in Latin and they're as exciting and as accessible as any Grisham. You may learn a bit about the Romans as well. This is the latest in the Roma Sub Rosa series, set in 56 B.C.

FICTION
THE PISTOLEER
James Carlos Blake
Berkley Books.
353 pages.
This fictional treatment of real-life outlaw John Wesley Hardin takes the reader back to the old West to meet "the deadliest man in Texas." The story is told through the eys of those who knew him, including Wild Bill Hickok, who observed that while Hardin nearly always killed in self-defense, Hickock never "met anybody forced to do so much self-defending as that boy."

TEN STUPID THINGS WOMEN DO TO MESS UP THEIR LIVES
Dr. Laura Schlessinger
Villard. 232 pages.
The host of the 7-9 p.m. slot on Sacramento's KSTE 650 talk radio comes up with a whole bunch of things that women do wrong. Great for women who want to make a new start and can handle a dose of truth.

The complete volume shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the City of West Sacramento at the address above, and designated as a bid bearing the name of the bidder and name of project. The bidder is wholly responsible to see that his bid is submitted at the time and place designated for the opening of bids. Any bid received after the time and date specified shall not be considered. Any bid may be withdrawn prior to the scheduled time for opening bids.

Each bid must conform and be responsive to this notice and shall be made on the official proposal forms furnished with the contract documents.

Attention is directed to the provisions of the Business and Professions Code Section 7028.15 which makes it a misdemeanor for any person without a valid contractor's license (with specific exceptions) to submit a bid to act as a Contractor to a public agency.

Proposal Guarantee: Each proposal must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento.

Wage Rates: Bidders are hereby notified that the California Director of Industrial Relations has determined the general prevailing rate of wages for each craft, classification, or type of worker needed to execute the work.

It shall be mandatory for the Contractor and any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to laborers and workmen employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Award: The award shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder whose proposal complies with the specified requirements. The award of Contract will be made by the Director of Community Development and the Contractor shall execute the Contract within ten (10) days after he has received the Contract from the City.

Liquidated Damages: The liquidated damage to be paid by the Contractor to the City for each calendar day's delay in completion of the work beyond the Contract time shall be in the amount of $200.00 per day.

By submission of a bid by the Contractor to the City to perform the work, the Contractor declares that he has considered the amount of said liquidated damages and that he has determined that the amount of such liquidated damages is fair and reasonable.

Rejection of Bids: The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Any bid not conforming to the intent and purpose of the contract documents may be rejected. The City reserves the right to make all awards in the best interest of the City.

Disqualification of Bidder: If there is a reason to believe that collusion exists among any bidders, none of the bids of the participants in such collusion will be considered and the City may likewise elect to reject all bids received.

Relief of Bidder: Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred.

Bonds: The successful bidder will be required to furnish a payment bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the contract price, and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) percent of the contract price.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento river registered 2 feet 8 inches, United States gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. This reading was taken at high tide, and a few hours later on the gauge showed a height of 1 foot 6 inches.

No raids have been made on the Chinese places of business during this past week by either Sheriff Monroe or Constable Buckingham, although the officers have been urged to take a hand in quelling what is believed to be gambling. In these Chinese places a great deal of talk can be heard at any hour of the day or night and frequently there is a loud clatter of bones or similar material believed by many to be dominoes or some such similar implement of pastime. So far nobody has been able to witness the game and consequently a doubt is expressed by many there are any games being played by the Chinese of the town.

Last Wednesday V. Reynosa was arrested for reckless driving on Anne street and in appearing before Judge Barry was fined $25, which was immediately paid. The accident happened on Labor Day when Reynosa backed his automobile up the grade in front of the Beale store, dangerously imperiling the front of the store and several automobiles that were parked in the immediate neighborhood. Mrs. Homer Lee of North Sacramento, who had her car standing in front of the store, made a dash to escape from the backing automobile of Reynosa and in doing so shot across Anne street where her car was seriously damaged by another automobile that had just come down the bridge incline and which could not stop in time to save Mrs. Lee's automobile. No blame was placed on the newcomer in the fracas, for Mrs. Lee acknowledged she was out of her place at the time the accident happened.

Harley Austin was liberated from a Sacramento Hospital after spending several days under the care of physicians for a deep cut he sustained last Saturday in Trinity county while out deer hunting. Harley was using an ax on a stump of an old tree to get some grubs for bait on a fishing trip. The ax slipped from the old stump and severed two cords of his right foot just below the ankle. His companions noting the bad condition of the wound started immediately from Trinity county and landed in Sacramento that evening when he was taken to a hospital for attention.

On September 1st, Manuel Lewis of West Sacramento was robbed when a shotgun was taken from his home at the lower end of the district. The rear door was pried open during the absence of the family in Sacramento and the shotgun taken, while nothing else of value so far as ascertained was touched. The complaint was lodged with Constable Buckingham the following day but no trace of the intruder has been found.

Jack Reuther, the popular Washington barber during many years past, has purchased the vacant lot at the corner of Third and Elizabeth streets. On this lot he expects to build a home and a shop to accommodate his business and has announced his intention to do so immediately. The lot is 40x80 feet and is located on the southwest corner immediately opposite the town hall. Evidently it is the intention of the Chinese to take up the location that has been occupied by Reuther on Anne street during several years past.

If Chinese take up the Reuther barber shop on Anne street the entire frontage of the lot will be occupied by the newcomers with the exception of the post office in a short space of time. A remarkable change has come over this section of town since the advent of orientals. Automobiles are lined up at nearly every hour of the day along this frontage and many pedestrians can be seen on the side walks who were absent for many years in the past. Quite a lively change is shown in this strange change and yet the Chinese are not making themselves obnoxious by crowding women off the walks or using coarse language in the presence of ladies or girls who happen to be passing that neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis are soon to occupy the new house which they have built on the old Lynch property on Second street. The house is one of the three small cottages which are to be completed in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Garber and Mrs. Sarah Garber and Ed Garber spent the week-end at Clear Lake.

Miss Essie White, with Miss Helen Holt of Alameda, returned on Sunday from a two months' European trip. They visited Rome and Paris and many other European cities during their stay. On their return Miss Holt visited in Washington for two days before going on to Alameda.

Miss Georgia Mathena, who has been ill at her home, is improved.

Miss Josephine Vergilio, with Miss Marie Johnson of Oak Park and Miss Rickett, went to San Francisco on Wednesday to enter the San Francisco county hospital as a student nurses. The three will complete their nursing training at the San Francisco hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bartle are enjoying an outing in Lassen county. Mr. and Mrs. W. Glasford and John Peek, also members of the party who went to Oregon for a fishing trip, have now rejoined Mr. and Mrs. Bartle and with them will return home in a few days.

Mrs. James Machado and Miss Marian Rada left last Saturday for Suisun, where they will engage in the restaurant business. They will be joined later by Machado and Mrs. A. Caffaro, mother of the former.

Harry Van Baaren has purchased a home in Oak Park and will take possession of it about September 15th.

LITTLE FAULT IS NOW BEING FOUND WITH CHINESE LEASEHOLDERS IN WASHINGTON

Today, September 7th, the first trial of the accused Chinese gamblers of Washington took place before Judge Barry, but too late for this paper to get the details before going to press.

Subpoenas had been issued yesterday for jurors to take a hand in this trial and it was estimated that some little difficulty would be experienced in the selection of a jury.

A great many of those eligible to serve had alreay signed petitions to the district attorney asking him to oust the Chinese gamblers from Washington, praying for relief from what they termed objectionable neighbors.

These people, it is presumed, will be ineligible to serve as trial jurors because they have already expressed their antipathy to the accused men, denominating them gamblers and unworthy neighbors.

In all there are ten Chinese up for trial.

The case of Ah Lum cannot possibly be held tomorrow because the case of Yong Key, the first to be tried, will take up considerable time, and attorneys rightly take such steps as will fail to mitigate against their clients.

If gambling is to be the principal occupation of the Chinese, who have taken up their stores in Washington, then it is not a great credit to the town, but they have conducted similar stores in Sacramento right at the very gateway of the community and no fault has been found.

Reports have it that if treated fairly and squarely more Sacramento Chinese are coming to open business houses in Washington, but if they are not given a square deal no more premises will be leased by the orientals in this locality.

Last Sunday night a gang of youngsters laid siege to the building occupied by Chinese at the corner of Third and Anne streets. Several windows were broken in the place and some windows were broken in the vacant house next door where Harry Steuben formerly lived.

On Monday morning all windows on these premises were wired so that rock throwing in the future will be ineffective in breaking lights or glass.

In all but one of the stores opened by Chinese a semblance at least of a store is shown. In most of them cigars, tobacco, tea and coffee are kept in stock and some oriental goods like nuts, candies and other notions are also carried in stock. These may be only a bluff to cover what goes on behind the partitions of the Chinese store, but at any rate no flgrant violation can be seen by any Americans in the vicinity of the institutions.

A word has been passed to the Chinese that their men should not block the sidewalk on Anne street, although many of them may be seen loitering around, especially during this warm weather. An immediate response was made by the lessees of the places and the men or very few of them loiter along the sidewalk between Second and Third streets.

One thing is certain and that is that no rude or lascivious talk or curse-words are being heard from the Chinese who may be waiting near those premises to foul the ears of women or children who may be passing.

This is certainly a welcome change to residents of the town, for on many previous occasions coarse and vile expressions might be heard in this neighborhood.

One lady speaking to the Independent yesterday, remarked:

"I have not much love for Chinese as neighbors of mine, but I prefer to have those people than to have others whom I am not going to mention who might find my washboard or my dishpan very conveniently placed on my back porch."

It is understood that the petition of the Chinese to the P. G. & E. Co. for a supply of gas for cooking and heating was one of the principle levers that prompted the corporation to start installation of its supply for all the residents of Washington.

PEARS FROM REED ORCHARD WIN PRIZE FOR YOLO COUNTY

Yolo county was awarded the sweepstake prize for counties on pears last Tuesday at the California state fair in Sacramento. Twenty-six varieties, the majority from the Hayward Reed Rose Orchard Farm, were on exhibition.

Particular attention was paid by Hayward Reed to the selection of pears from his orchard for the exhibition this year with the above result. Yolo county has fared extremely well at the hands of the judges this year but on this particular commodity the pears from Reed's orchard made a record.

CLARKSBURG ITEMS

Frank Alamo and Miss Helen Fratis were married at St. Joseph church on Saturday Sept 1st and after the ceremony left on their honeymoon.

Jos L. Contente was in San Francisco a couple of days attending the monthly directors meeting of the I. D. E. S.

The Clarksburg union school opened on the 4th, the attendance being very large this year.

On Sunday last, Jos L. Contente and family, Joseph Soto and family, Wm. Soto and family, Peter Maceil and family, Joseph Mederas and family, M. Garcia and family, all motored to see Rasco Park where they spent the day.

Budgie Soto has returned home after spending four weeks with his Aunt Mrs Laura Garcia of Riverside.

On Sunday the 9th, Jos R. Contente supreme financial secretary of the I. D. E. S., Frank Azeveda, M. S. Contente, Joseph Fraga and Manuel Foster will leave as delegates for Tulare Calif. to attend the annual convention of the I. D. E. S. which will be in session there one week.

YOLO SWAMP LAND IS VALUED HIGHLY IN LATE WILL

Woodland, Aug. 30.—That swamp land in Yolo county has a high value from an agricultural standpoint is indicated in the probate of the last will and testament of Frank J. Tromp, prominent resident of the Clarksburg district, who died August 21st last, and filed here this morning with County Clerk Harry R. Saunders by Lester Hinsdale of Sacramento. The petition states that the principal item of the estate is 126 acres of swamp land near Clarksburg valued at $25,000.

The entire estate is of the value of about $45,000. The will is dated August 8, 1923, and leaves the entire estate to two sisters and a nephew. They are Mrs. Sophie Scribner of Freeport, petitioner named as executor of the will, Mrs. Mattie Herringer of Clarksburg, and Seymour Gorter of Clarksburg, a nephew.

Besides the swamp land, the deceased left coin amounting to $5,500; notes and mortgages of the value of $10,500; liberty bonds amounting to $2,500; rentals, personal property, household furniture and the like, making up the balance of the large estate.

AN ACT OF REAL CHARITY AND GOOD WILL.

Laboring under many difficulties and living as best he could during the past two years, Rev. Father Marcucci became the recipient of a real act of good will and charity last week, when his entire home on Third street was practically refurnished throughout.

The furnishings were not purchased by Father Marcucci, but were the gift of a good lady of Sacramento, who was fully acquainted with the difficulties with which he labored.

The donor was Mrs. George K. Rider.

GREAT TRAFFIC CROSSES THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC BRIDGE EVERY DAY

Out of curiosity, Constable Buckingham and Dan Ryan, watchman at the end of the Southern Pacific bridge, counted the number of automobiles crossing from Yolo county to Sacramento last Sunday evening.

To their great astonishment 225 cars passed in the first half hour of the count, and in the first hour of the count 470 cars passed the Third street crossing on their way to Sacramento.

Just about that time the Southern Pacific drawbridge opened and during a space of twelve minutes at the most while the draw was open 168 automobiles lined up on the right side of the road from the head of the draw as far west as Fourth street.

This is a wonderful showing for the amount of traffic that crosses the bridge from Yolo county and points west of Sacramento. It is an indication of the vast amount of business being done by Sacramento merchants with residents from points west of the Sacramento river.

A few years ago when a similar count was made it was estimated that during the busiest day of the state fair when a collision of railroad engines was about to take place at the fair grounds the count showed that 925 cars passed from Yolo county into Sacramento.

The count that was started last Sunday would go to show that in the twelve hours of daylight 5,640 cars passed from Yolo county over the Southern Pacific bridge to Sacramento.

This is a wonderful showing that may not exactly keep up every day of the year, but it is an evidence of the great business being done by the merchants of Sacramento with people who make their homes along the state highway between Washington and San Francisco

The service station now operating on Fifth street, under direction of Frazer & Doyle, was so busy of late that another pump has been installed to help along the patrons of the station.

$300,000 ASSESSMENT APPROVED FOR RECLAMATION DISTRICT 1600

Woodland, Sept. 6.—Approval of the $300,000 assessment on Reclamation District 1600, comprising the district near Elkhorn and the Fremont weir, was voted Tuesday by the board of supervisors. The assessment provides for the payment of debts and is divided among twenty-five owners of property. A fund for the upkeep of the district is also left. The viewers were W. G. Stephens, J. Reith, Jr., and R. G. Lawson.

A gross profit of $379,000 was made by the Leviathan on her maiden trip, according to figures issued at Washington. Receipts on the outward voyage from New York to Europe were $411,000 and those on the return trip $368,000. The actual operating expenditures, not including capital cost and other overhead, for the round trip totaled $400,000.

NO HUNTING

This is to notify the public that the California Fish and Game Commission has liberated herds of elk on our cattle range in Yolo, Lake and Colusa counties. This range commences approximately four miles west of Rumsey, near and including the Ray House range, extending up and including Cache Creek six miles, thence in a northeasterly direction crossing Bear Creek approximately eight miles above the junction of Cache and Bear creeks and bounded on the east by Cortina Mountains and including that part of the range formerly owned by the Stovall Wilcoxson Company called the "Hamilton Place," which is the northern boundary.

Anyone found hunting on these premises will be prosecuted according to law.

REMAINS OF UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND NEAR RIVER

In the vicinity of the Horst packing plant in West Sacramento and in the jungles along the river last Wednesday the remains of a man were found with no means of identification.

It appears from what could be learned from campers in the neighborhood that the man had complained of being sick but refused to allow anyone to call in a doctor.

They urged him to go to either the Sacramento or Woodland hospital on last Tuesday but he refused and told them that he would be all right in a day or so.

Wednesday morning his remains were found in the camp, life having fled during the night, and Coroner Wilson of Yolo county was notified immediately.

Constable Buckingham took charge of the remains until the arrival of the coroner when a search was made of the body without discovery of anything that might lead to identification.

The man was apparently about 45 years of age with dark hair, slightly tinged with grey. He was about 5 feet 8 inches in height, wearing blue overalls, a blue serge coat and a soft brown hat.

REMARKABLE COINCIDENCE ON DEATH OF DR. ARBOGAST

For some considerable time past it has been customary with Dr. J. L. Arbogast to advise the Independent when births occurred in this locality and frequently when he was present at births in Sacramento he included an account of those in his communications.

Last Friday, August 31st, Dr. Arbogast wrote the Independent advising of three births, three boys in Sacramento and one girl to Mrs. Albert Curry of Bryte.

The communication did not reach the office of the Independent until Tuesday morning, September 4th, because the postoffice was closed on Sunday, September 2d and Monday, September 3d.

On the night of September 3d Dr. Arbogast was shot by a bandit in Sacramento and consequently his message to this paper was like a message from the dead.

Aaron Parbs heads to Australia with CCC

Aaron Parbs, 25, son of West Sacramento's Kathleen and Ronald Parbs, will visit Australia as part of an international work exchange between the California Conservation Corps and the Australia Trust for Conservation Volunteers.

Parbs is currently with the Sacramento Local Conservation Corps. The 1988 River City High School graduate leaves September 27 with 12 members of the California Conservation Corps, which sponsors the annual work exchange. In Australia, the corpsmembers will work on environmental projects in Adelaide, Queensland, or Melbourne. Australian youth will then come to California in December to work on CCC projects. This is the eighth year of this international exchange.

The participating corpsmembers pay their own transportation and any other expenses of the nine-week work exchange. In competing for selection, they were judged on their attitudes, aptitudes, abilities, adaptability and potential.

The California Conservation Corps is a state agency providing women and men, ages 18 through 23, training and work in resources protection, wildlife habitat improve-

From "Christmas in April" Greater Sacramento

"Christmas in April Greater Sacramento," a community-based project that brings volunteers and beneficiaries together in the tradition of an old-fashioned "barn-raising," is now accepting applications for recipients of next year's efforts. On Saturday, April 27, 1996, two-thousand volunteers armed with tools and a desire to help out their neighbors will turn out to refurbish homes and community facilities throughout the greater Sacramento area.

Christmas in April recipients must be low-income homeowners who live in the City of County of Sacramento, City of West Sacramento or City of Roseville. "Our programs primarily helps homeowners who are elderly, disabled or low-income and have no other way of getting their home repaired," said selection committee chairman Gregory Wessel. Another criterion for selection is the ability for Christmas in April volunteers to complete the work in one day -- Saturday, April 27, 1996. "It's amazing how much work a group of 100 dedicated volunteers can accomplish in a day," Wessel added.

A new addition to Christmas in April Greater Sacramento's service area is the City of Roseville. "We're particularly pleased to expand our program in 1996 to qualified residents who live in the Roseville area," said board president John Buckel. Plans to refurbish a Roseville community facility are currently underway.

If you would like to receive an application, please call the Christmas in April message line at 929-3588 and leave your name, complete mailing address and phone number, and one will be sent to you. The deadline to return your application for consideration is Friday, September 29.

In 1995, approximately 1700 volunteers renovated about a dozen homes, mostly owned by seniors who were physically and financially unable to maintain them, and four community facilities, including Sacramento Food Bank Services, Heart to Heart Youth Services, Holy Cross Elementary School in West Sacramento, and Sacramento Children's Home. Residents in the Oak Park, Meadowview, Del Paso Heights, North Highlands, and West Sacramento communities benefitted from the volunteer efforts of Christmas in April. The goal for 1996 is to serve 4-5 community facilities, while increasing the number of homes by 50 percent.

'Show 'n Tell' at History meeting Sept. 20

The West Sacramento Historical Society will hold their fall general meeting on Wednesday, September 20, at the Arthur F. Turner Library, 1212 Merkley Avenue, West Sacramento, from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

The society is pleased to announce that this is their second year in existence. In honor of this birthday, refreshments will be served.

The program for the evening is "Show-N-Tell." Attendees are asked to bring one or two items for discussion that are of historical interest to themselves.

The society states that they are still working on their photographic exhibit and reproducing old photographs of West Sacramento.

For further information, contact either Bryan Turner at 371-6915 or Louisa Vessell at 372-3453.

Native West Sac artist on display in El Dorado

The El Dorado County Historical Museum, in collaboration with the Shingle Springs Rancheria, whose tribe is mixed Miwok-Maidu ancestry, is sponsoring an exhibition containing works by local West Sacramentan, Harry Fonseca. This is the society's first major exhibition celebrating the role of American Indians in El Dorado County. Fonseca has loaned paintings for the exhibit. He also has relatives on the Rancheria. Fonseca has exhibited works internationally in Germany and Japan, as well as the United States. At present, he is based in Taos, New Mexico. The Museum will hold an official reception September 15 and continue until late November.

For more information, call 1-621-5865.

UP to replace rail crossings

During September, Union Pacific Railroad will be installing new crossings on Terminal and Del Monte Streets.

Due to raising and realignment of the tracks, the following road closures will occur:

Terminal Street between Port Street and Front Street, September 19 and 20.

Del Monte Street and Cebrian Street between Terminal Street and the north end of Cebrian Street, September 22.

Terminal Street between just north of Coors to Port Street, September 26 and 27.

The possibility of longer road closures may occur due the construction delays. However, it is our goal to adhere to the above schedules and minimize inconvenience to the affected industries, businesses, and the public.

Stop sign policy will come before council

West Sacramento's engineering division will bring recommendations on city-wide standards for stop signs to a city council meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 20.

The report will be moved forward from a speed reduction agenda item scheduled for December, partly to meet concerns of residents of the Maple/Holly area, said Larry von Kaenel of the city manager's office.

Speed control is one of several issues some of those residents have expressed great concern over, especially in light of the death of a five-year old child in a hit-and-run accident nearby last month.

This Week In History

On September 16, 1620, the Mayflower cast off from Plymouth, England, with a ship full of Puritan separatists from the Church of England bound for the New World in search of religious freedom; their original destination was the colony of Virginia ... September 17, 1787, delegates to the Constitutional convention finally adopted the Constitution after four months of heated debate ... September 11, 1814, the Battle of Lake Champlain took place with the Americans ultimately claiming victory ... September 12, 1814, Maryland militia men were successful in repulsing the British advance ... September 13-14, 1814, Ft. McHenry in Baltimore was besieged by the British as Francis Scott Key looked on from a nearby ship, inspiring him to write "The Star Spangled Banner" when the fort withstood the assault and the U.S. flag still proudly waved above it ... September 14, 1901, President William McKinley, who had been shot eight days previously by anarchist Leon Czolgosz, expired ... September 17, 1911, C.P. Rodgers began the first transcontinental airplane flight, taking off from New York, bound for Pasadena, with stops planned in between ... September 16, 1915, a treaty was agreed upon which made Haiti a virtual U.S. protectorate ... September 16, 1920, a bomb exploded on Wall Street in New York City, claiming 30 lives and injuring 100 people; the damage was estimated at $2 million ... September 14, 1940, the first military draft to be held in a time of peace was approved ... September 15, 1959, Nikita Khrushchev, Premier of the Soviet Union, made history when he set foot in the U.S. for a heretofore unprecedented visit ... September 17, 1986, William Rehnquist, nominated by President Reagan for chief justice of the Supreme Court and Antonin Scalia, an associate justice, were confirmed by the Senate ... September 16, 1991, all charges against Oliver North, a key figure in the Iran-Contra affair, were dropped and the case was officially terminated.

Fat? Sick and Tired?

So was I. Overweight, suffering from chronic fatigue, experiencing hair loss, anxiety resulting in heart palpitations, and poor diet attached to a high stress work environment, blah, blah, blah. . . (Sound familiar?)

Well, today I have lost over 50 lbs., I weigh what I did as a high school junior nearly 18 years ago, the hair loss has stopped, the heart problems have ceased, my diet has greatly improved, and I no longer experience the high stress in virtually the same line of business.

This may not work for everyone, but if you want to know how to get off the track to a short life-span and one that may add years to a more productive and healthier life, simply call (800) 836-9180. I will send you a free tape, and personally return your call.

I wouldn't be offering this product to you if I hadn't used it for over 1 1/2 years and believed in it myself.

The festival is a free public event debuting a minimum of seven large vessels for all to view and tour. Among the vessels scheduled for this year's event are the Alma, the Point Brower, and the Cuuauhtemoc.

PortFest '95 will also feature music, a fireworks display, carnival rides, exhibits, a large array of food and craft vendors, and much more. PortFest '95 will be held on "Pier 6" at the Port of Sacramento, located just one block south of the freeway. Parking is available for only $3.

Sewage protest

A group of West Sacramento residents angry about the proposed location of a new city sewage plant (near Gregory Ave. and Bevan Rd. in Southport) will hold an open public meeting on Thursday, Sept. 14 at 7 p.m. in the Turner Library on Merkley Ave. The goal of the group is to "prevent this proposed location" because of concerns over chemicals, odors, noise and economic impact.

Talent Show

Whether you like to dance, enjoy singing in the shower, juggle, or would like to try out a few new jokes, you need to get your act together and sign up for "Get Your Act Together," this year's annual talent show sponsored by Dance Vision Performing Troupe. The show will be non-competitive and welcomes all ages. The show will take place September 16 and 5 p.m. in Dance Factory's parking lot, located at 515 Michigan Blvd. (corner of Jefferson Blvd.). For more information, or to become a participant, call the Dance Factory at 371-5061.

The East Yolo Friends of the Library book sale (the last one of the year) will be held on the weekend of September 23 and 24. The Friends are asking for donations of books as soon as possible to allow time for sorting. All types of books are accepted. Many bestsellers and coffee table-type books end up on the library shelves instead of the book sale. Donations are accepted during library hours. Large quantities may be delivered to the back entrance on the east side of the building -- ring the buzzer. For library hours, call 371-9274.

Hazardous waste taken Saturday

Yolo County Department of Public Works and Transportation is sponsoring a household hazardous waste collection day at the Yolo County Central Landfill on September 23. The event will take place from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Yolo County Central Landfill, located on County Road 28H, east of County Road 102.

Poisons, solvents, paints, gasoline, batteries, cleaners, pool chemicals, automotive fluids, used motor oil, and aerosol cans will be accepted.

Marshall alums sought for golf, pizza

There are a few remaining slots in the James Marshall High School (J.M.H.S.) Reunion Golf Tournament, to be held on Sunday, October 8, at Davis Municipal Golf Course. The 18-hole scramble costs $40 and is open to everyone. To register, call 371-5420 by Monday, September 18.

For non-golfers, there is still space available for the pizza party to be held in West Sacramento immediately after the tournament.

ment expected to be introduced by city staff to the council, Sulpizio now expects his appeal to be denied and the agreement approved without opposition from him.

At issue were language about the conditional use permits for rail uses and how water related use will be permitted. "We now know what the zoning permits," Sulpizio said.

Another issue which has been under dispute was the negotiations over how the city would obtain port land for the new Palamidessi Bridge. According to Sulpizio, he has agreed to allow the question of land acquisition to be settled by a third party arbiter when it becomes necessary.

The proposed development, called the Seaway International Trade Center, includes 275 acres for water related industries, 98 acres for a business park, 21 acres for light industrial uses, 40 acres for parks and recreation facilities, and 72 acres for open space.

The port development is planned for the 500 acres of port property between the proposed Southport Industrial Park and the Arlington Oaks neighborhood.

LUNCHES from p. 6

your child's help in planning lunches. Set aside time to prepare lunch together. "This is important," says Drodz, "because a child is more likely to eat what they have chosen and helped prepare."

Finally, make sure the lunch you send to school with your child is safe. Drodz offers these tips for packing lunches:

Be mindful of kitchen cleanliness. Be sure hands, utensils and work areas are clean when preparing food.

Pack only thoroughly cooked foods and don't use week-old leftovers. Next day use of leftovers is acceptable.

Use a commercial freezing gel (Blue Ice) or invest in an insulated lunch bag or thermos. Packing individual cartons of yogurt, or a can or box of fruit juice can also help keep foods cool. Many sandwiches made with peanut butter, cheese or meat are suitable for freezing (pack lettuce and tomato separately for sandwich assembly at lunch). By lunch time these foods or drinks will thaw and be ready to enjoy.

Wash lunch boxes and insulated totes daily.

She has also enlisted the help of another West Sacramento resident Yelena Nelipovich to do the illustrations for the book. Nelipovich is a 19 year-old Ukrainian immigrant currently attending American River College. As part of her research, she has joined Seamans in the pool to learn the exercises herself. The illustrations are based on photographs of Seamans in the water.

In October of 1994, excavation began in Seamans' backyard on a "therapy pool". The pool is 12' by 12', and eight feet deep, with a ledge for her to stand on for the exercises that require standing.

It also has a collapsible vinyl dome over it which must be "blown up" with an air compressor before she can enter it.

The dome and the heated pool provide her with a protected environment, which helps ward off the pain from Reynaud's Syndrome. A condition in which the capillaries contract.

Instead of making the journey to the YMCA, which became much more difficult when her car was totaled in an accident last year, she can begin her mornings three days a week by pumping up the dome, unzipping the door, climbing into the room. She then checks the water temperature, gets in, and begins her regimen.
